Mary Dyer was a Puritan who became a martyr and returned to Massachusetts Bay Colony. She was a Quaker, someone who would rather die than give up on his or her belief.

Mary Dyer and Anne Hutchinson both spoke out in favor of ideas that opposed the Puritans. Both were punished. Mary Dyer was hanged from the gallows and Anne Hutchinson was banished from Massachusetts.

Quakers were hated and persecuted because they did not believe in ministers or in swearing an oath of allegiance to the king. They believed in equality + tolerance, and thinking for yourself.

The statues of Mary Dyer and Anne Hutchinson on Boston Common exemplify American values of independent thinking and standing up for your beliefs.

Suppose you are a friend of Mary Dyer. Her life will be spared if she agrees to leave Massachusetts. What would you tell her to do: stand up for what she believes or leave Massachusetts forever? Why? I would tell her to stand up for what she believes because she believes what is right to do and she should do what she wants.
