My challenge With folowing directions is getting stressed. I know the responsibility falls on my shoulder. When that happens I get stressed. To avoid this in the future I could think about the class. My challenge with listening directions is my volume. When you are far away I will turn up my volume from the computer.